

I do not agree with changing the rules of ownership as you are planning to do. We need MORE diversity rather than less. There should be a public debate before any changes are made.